Eating Before Performing

Scenario
The day of a performance, I often feel nervous and sometimes skip lunch, only to feel hungry later. Performances are usually in the evening so I know I need to eat something beforehand. Playing extended sets, I rarely get a break. What foods can I eat and at what times to supply me with enough energy to perform well the entire time?

Goals of Nutrition Before Performing

• Consume a carbohydrate-rich snack or meal before exercise to top off muscle stores. With pre-performance jitters, liquid meal replacements may be a better choice than whole foods.

• Include small amounts of protein in your pre-performance meal(s). Protein helps build and repair muscle tissue. Adequate protein before a performance may help reduce post-exercise muscle soreness.

• Choose pre-performance meal(s) that are low in fat and fiber to ensure optimal digestion.

Pre-Performance Foods & Fluids

3–4 Hours Before a Performance
• Peanut butter & honey on toast + instant breakfast drink
• Fruit and yogurt smoothie + low-fat granola
• Oatmeal with brown sugar and almonds + skim milk + banana
• Low-fat cottage cheese + apple butter + crackers + fresh grapes
• Lean hamburger on bun with lettuce & tomato + side salad + yogurt-fruit parfait
• Turkey and Swiss sandwich + fruit + sports drink
• Low-fat tuna melt sandwich + fruit cup + fat-free yogurt

30–60 Minutes Before a Performance
• Sports drink or water
• Sports gel, sport beans or gummies, sports bar
• Piece of fruit or jam sandwich

Tips to Take With You
1. Experiment with foods and drinks in practice to determine the best timing and your tolerance for pre-performance foods.
2. Practice! Figuring out what works best for you will boost confidence in eating before performing.
3. Fuel muscles early with easily digestible carbohydrate-rich foods and beverages for performing later in the day.
