The athletic training program at Plymouth State has earned a widespread reputation for excellence. Accredited since 1997, the curriculum combines strong classroom learning with outstanding practical, “hands-on” experience to prepare students for clinical application in a variety of employment settings.

One of the more popular majors at PSU, athletic training students learn under the direction of certified athletic trainers, working directly with varsity athletic teams to help prevent, evaluate and rehabilitate injuries incurred by student-athletes. The program was established in the 1980s by former athletic trainer Dennis McManus and has continued to develop in recent years under Program Director Linda Levy.

Head Athletic Trainer Mark Legacy and Assistant Athletic Trainer Eric Gibbs are responsible for the day-to-day operations of the athletic training facility and the healthcare of the varsity student-athletes. The staff also includes Program Director Linda Levy, Director of Clinical Education Liesl Lindley, Graduate Curriculum Director Margie King, and graduate assistants Brian Boyls-White, Sabrena Lary and Aimee Sevigny.

Athletic training students gain experience performing traditional tasks such as prevention, evaluation, treatment, and rehabilitation of injuries seen in active populations. The students work closely with and learn from many established medical professionals, such as team physician Dr. Victor Gennaro, school physicians Dr. John Bentwood, Dr. David Cunis, and Dr. Viking Hedburg, and community physicians Dr. Mandy Gennaro and Dr. Dan O’Neil.

Many of PSU’s athletic training graduates have gone on to become certified athletic trainers and are employed across the country. PSU graduates are employed in high schools, colleges and universities, physician’s offices, and professional sports as well as physical therapy clinics.

In the summer of 2004, the weight room in the athletic department was renovated and expanded, and with the support of Nick Vailas ’76, the Vailas Performance Center was born. The new facility is a major boost to the strength and conditioning of Panther student-athletes.

PSU Athletics and physical education students benefit from improvements to equipment. The program serves three purposes: 1) to provide a safe environment for all student-athletes to develop their skills and abilities; 2) to provide a teaching lab for Health, Physical Education and Recreation majors; and 3) to prevent and rehabilitate injuries.

The Vailas Performance Center is a facility that is both attractive and safe for student-athletes. It focuses attention to the needs of our athletic teams individually in an area that is both gender-friendly and supported by professionals who have the capacity to develop the diverse programming needed for the many types of student-athletes at Plymouth State.

The creation of the Vailas Performance Center offers an opportunity for Health Physical Education and Recreation majors to enhance their knowledge and experience in the types of training involved in a strength and conditioning program. The exposure to basic through complex techniques of functional training will allow students majoring in athletic training to develop the competencies and skills needed to be competitive in a growing career field.
Sara Jayne Steen
President

Dr. Sara Jayne Steen became the 14th president of Plymouth State University on July 1, 2006.

Dr. Steen had been the dean of College of Letters and Science at Montana State University since 2003, where she oversaw the departments of agricultural economics and economics, cell biology and neuroscience, chemistry and biochemistry, earth sciences, ecology, English, history and philosophy, mathematical sciences, microbiology, modern languages and literatures, Native American studies, physics, political science, psychology and sociology and anthropology. The college also includes the Center for Bio-Inspired Nanomaterials, Center for Computational Biology, Center for Thermal Biology, Geographic and Informational Analysis Center, Humanities Institute, Local Government Center, Spectrum Lab, Wheeler Center for Public Policy and the Women’s Studies Program.

The first in her family to attend college, Dr. Steen received a B.S. in Education (English, Speech) at Bowling Green State University in 1970, an M.A. in English at The Ohio State University in 1974, and her Ph.D. in English at Bowling Green State University in 1978. In 2002 she participated in a year-long American Council on Education fellowship to study higher education administration at the University of Delaware. From 1996 to 2002 Dr. Steen chaired the Department of English at Montana State and has been a full professor of English since 1989. She has been a professor at the University since 1978 and in 1996, received the President’s Distinguished Teaching Award from MSU. She has written several books and many journal articles, published numerous papers, and has been a very active member of the Montana State University and Greater Bozeman communities.

John P. Clark
Director of Athletics

John P. Clark is in his seventh year as Athletic Director at Plymouth State College, and his second stint in the position. A 1971 graduate of Plymouth State College, Clark has been at his alma mater every year but one since enrolling as an undergraduate in 1967.

After receiving his bachelor’s degree, Clark served as Residence Hall Director at PSC while earning his Masters degree, which he received in 1973. He taught in the Ashland School District for one year before returning to Plymouth State in 1973, where he has held a variety of roles ever since. He was Associate Director of Admissions from 1973-75, Director of the College Union/Student Affairs from 1975-80, Director of Athletics from 1980-85, and Executive Assistant to the President from 1985-2001.

Clark is involved in a variety of civic activities. He is President of the Plymouth Area Support for Kids, and was a coach and administrator for the Plymouth Area Youth Softball and Baseball Leagues. He served on the Board of Directors for the Manchester Union Leader Athlete of the Month and on the Board of Directors for the Pemigewasset National Bank. Clark has also held various positions for the Christa McAuliffe Planetarium, Pease Public Library, Speare Memorial Hospital, the Plymouth Rotary Club and Plymouth School District.

Clark and his wife Maureen have two children, a son Jamie and a daughter Cathleen.
