MEN

2002 XCountry Summary

In 2002 the Yale Men's Cross Country team took a very positive step in the direction of future success. The team only had two seniors, of which only one was a consistent top five finisher for the Bulldogs. This year's top seven primarily consisted of two seniors, three sophomores, and 2 freshmen. Of the 20 members of the cross country squad only 5 are juniors or seniors. It was one of the youngest squads ever at Yale but also one of the most talented. The team entered the season with a lot of youth and inexperience but with a lot of enthusiasm and confidence.

We opened the season with a dual meet against #8 ranked Georgetown University in The Plains, Virginia. We ran a very inspired race but came up short by a score of 22-39. Lucas Meyer '05 won the race and set a course record. After the race the team had a special private tour of the White House. Our second weekend of competition saw our squad divided into two teams. The top twelve athletes traveled to the Paul Short Run hosted by Lehigh University and the remaining athletes competed at the Quinnipiac Invitational (formerly the Connecticut Intercollegiates). We finished 3rd at the Quinnipiac Invitational with Andrew Johnson '06 leading the way with a runner-up finish. Unfortunately the varsity squad was hit by the flu just two days prior to the Paul Short meet. So we only ended up running seven individuals instead of twelve. The depleted squad finished 7th out of 24 teams. Meyer was again the Eli's top harrier garnering 3rd place with a time of 24:38 for the 5 mile race. Next

WOMEN

2002 XCountry Summary

“It was the best of times; it was the worst of times”. While Charles Dickens used these words to describe conditions in eighteenth century Europe, the theme often seemed appropriate for the women’s cross country team this fall. From the first day of the campaign, seniors Kate and Laura O'Neill performed brilliantly. For the rest of the team, the fall was a frustrating struggle to achieve very high, but legitimate expectations. The season began amid great optimism. Most of last year's nationally ranked Heptagonal Champion team returned to welcome a most impressive group of Freshwomen harriers. There was trouble from the outset. First, not everyone returned from last year's team. 2001's most consistent number three runner chose not to participate during her senior year. Then, each of the incoming freshmen had experienced injury or illness during the conclusion of her high school career, with the result that none of them had time to prepare for the cross country season. Add to that some other physical difficulties to the remaining returnees, and there were just too many obstacles to overcome.

As the accompanying results capsules show, the gaps in the early meets between Kate and Laura on the one hand, and everyone else on the other was simply too great; as much as 2 minutes at the NCAA Pre-meet. Further, the gap from our number 3 to our number 5 at the end of September was a minute and 30 seconds. Too many big gaps! Then, after a gutsy performance which proved pivotal in the successful defense of our H-Y-P crown (fourth in a row), frosh Julia Pudlin was effectively shut down for the remainder of the year by the recurrence of a pre-existing injury.

Finally, our luck began to change. As the calendar turned to November...

ber, the gap began to close. Kate was Yale’s first repeat Heptagonal Cross Country Champion and fastest ever over the VCP course. Laura’s third consecutive top five finish and ever improving performances from Rebecca Hunter, Melissa Donais and Alex Sawicki were not enough to overcome a dominating performance by Columbia at HEPS, but we managed to hang on for second.

The Northeast District meet was Yale’s best team performance. Kate the winner once again with Laura third, were easy individual qualifiers to the NCAA Championship. But, despite the fact that the gap from our #2 to our #3 had decreased by nearly a minute from 1:57 to 1:09, and our 3 through 5 gap was now only 5 seconds, Columbia, Providence and Boston College were better. We were fourth in the district but our early season problems prevented us from being selected as an At-Large participant as we hadn’t been able to beat any other teams who were in contention for At-Large berths. This was a very good team performance, but the team season effectively ended here. The O’Neills were left to carry the Yale banner in to the NCAA Championships alone for the first time in 3 years.

came the annual Harvard vs. Yale meet which took place at the Yale Golf Course for second consecutive year. The underdog Yale team pulled out an inspirational 27-28 victory that was not decided until the last 400 meters when freshmen Patrick Danzter outkicked Harvard’s 5th runner. Lucas Meyer won his second race of the season setting a course record in 25:38. It was the Bulldogs 3rd victory over Harvard in the last 4 years.

Next up was the New England Championships where Yale held out its top eight runners yet still managed a 19th place finish. The Eli were led by Senior John Reindl who finished 36th with a time of 25:04. Yale’s top eight harriers competed the following weekend at the NCAA Pre-Nationals in Terre Haute, IN. Lucas Meyer’s 22nd place finish led the Bulldogs to a 28th place finish. It was the first appearance ever by a Yale men’s team at the NCAA Pre-Nationals. The squad consisted of 4 sophomores and 2 freshmen.

At the Heptagonal Championships the Eli finished a disappointing 9th but were just 10 points from matching last year’s 7th place showing. Of the 12 athletes that competed only 4 had run in the conference meet previously. Lucas Meyer garnered 2nd team All-Ivy with his 8th place finish in 25:04. Meyer’s time places him 12th on Yale’s All-Time VCP list. Next up was the NCAA Northeast Regional Qualifier at Van Courtland Park. Despite the disappointing finish at the Heeps the team carried a lot of confidence in to the NCAA Regional Qualifier. The Northeast Region consists of teams from New York and all New England states. The team goal was a top 10 finish considering that only 2 of the seven competing athletes had ever run a 10k cross country race and Yale was not ranked among the top ten schools in our district. With a 9th place finish we accomplished our goal but were disappointed to have missed finishing among the top six by less than 25 points. Yale’s top finisher was again Lucas Meyer, who in finishing 10th with a time of 30:59, just missed qualifying individually for the NCAA Championships. Meyer earned All-Region honors for his effort in addition to being the 3rd Heeps conference finisher and the 4th non-senior finisher. It was the best team effort the Bulldogs had had all season. The top seven consisted of 3 sophomores, 2 freshman, and 2 seniors. The Eli concluded their season with a 3rd place finish at the IC4A Championships. Their 110 points was just one point behind second place William and Mary. Lucas Meyer caped off his tremendous sophomore campaign with a runner-up finish in 25:09. The next two Yale finishers were sophomores Casey Moriarty and Peter Furia in 23rd and 24th places with times of 25:53 and 25:55. Yale’s top three finisher’s earned all IC4A Honors by virtue of their top 25 finishes.

In looking back on the season it was a very successful campaign in spite of the disappointing finishes at the Heeps and NCAA Regional. The young squad came together and ran their best races at the right time and laid the foundation for an even more successful campaign next year. Lucas Meyer had a break out season and consistently showed that he is one of the top harriers in the Heeps as well as in the Northeast region. Freshmen Patrick Danzter and Andrew Johnson both cracked the top 12 on Yale’s All-Time Freshmen Performance List at Van Courtland Park. Danzter coming in at 7th place with his 26:12 and Johnson right behind in 11th with 26:30. With the team’s solid ending to the season and number of returning runners, the Bulldogs are very excited about next year’s cross country campaign.

Dear Friend of Yale Track,

As we enter the holiday season, I am frequently reminded of how much I, personally, and we, at Yale, collectively, have to be grateful for. We have some exciting young athletes at Yale. There is a solid core of young, talented and committed athletes who will accomplish much in the seasons ahead.

There is also a dynamic and dedicated young (except for yours truly) coaching staff who work very hard at coaching and recruiting our current generation of Yale Track and Field athletes.

The efforts of all of the above have been greatly assisted in recent years by the generosity of an increasingly interested and involved group of alumni. The successful establishment of the Giegerick Fund by John Cleary and Mike Stanley, the creation of the Calhoun Fund by the MacDonald family, the contribution of several hundred of you to either of our funds or to the annual giving effort, and, most recently, the terrific job done by Rob Doyle ’01 on our email newsletter this Fall, are all examples of the largess of our alumni, parents and friends. For this we are most grateful and thank you.

Yet, while we are grateful, we must continue our fundraising efforts. As with everything else, costs increase. Additionally, we look forward to this Spring to the edition of the Oxford/Cambridge series, which is still an expensive endeavor in spite of our recent good fortune. We are well aware that the economy has been lethargic and that there are myriad requests for your assistance. Many of you have already contributed to this year’s appeal, and for that we thank you. For those of you who have not, we hope that you will contribute if you can.

In any event, enjoy the holiday season. Thank you for your interest and your support.

Sincerely,

Mark Young
Yale Men's Track & Field Preview

With the graduation of nine seniors the 2002-2003 Men's Track and Field team will take on a distinctly younger look than it has in past seasons. An influx of young talent should make an immediate impact, while veteran Heps and IC4A scorers pepper the squad.

Sprints and Hurdles- Incoming freshman will be relied upon to fill the spots left by the graduation of multiple All-Ivy performers Donald Carson and Tom Stout. Look for newcomer Corey Vaughn of Texas and New York All-Stater Rob deLaski to continue the Bulldog's strong tradition in the long sprints and relays. Senior Heps Finalist Anthony Thomas along with classmate Brandon McKay and newcomer Mike Walker of Washington State will be called upon to handle the short sprinting duties. Look for junior Billy Wicker to return to form and contribute, after a mid-season knee surgery in 2002 knocked him out of action. The loss of two time Ivy Champ Thomas Hoeker will severely impact this group though freshmen Mike Brown of New Jersey and Shomari Taylor of Maryland have shown the potential to make an immediate impact on the program. Brown will run both the long and short events while Taylor will specialize in the intermediate hurdles. The talented group of youngsters will be looked upon to uphold the Elis strong tradition in those events.

Jumps- Look for continued success among the Bulldog jumps groups in 2002-2003. Led by Senior Heptagonal Champ Anthony Thomas, the jumps group should once again be a dominant force in Ivy League and Eastern track and field. The high jump could prove to be one of the strongest events for the Elis as Junior Derin Bray returns after garnering a fifth place finish in the event at the 2002 Outdoor Heptagonals at the Naval Academy. Bray will be joined by Sophomore Jordan Chapman and multi talented Frosh Jihad Beauchman, a medalist at the prestigious California State Championship. Beauchman should threaten the Freshman Record as well as the School record in the high jump during his first campaign. He should also be a factor in the triple jump, an event in which he was among the tops in California. Chapman showed flashes of excellence in the pole vault as a freshman and looks to be a contender at the Heptagonals level. He'll be joined by freshman.

Throws- Senior Captain Allen Czerwinski leads a strong and talented a group of throwers. As a junior he scored at the Heptagonals in both the 35lb weight throw and the javelin, and he looks to improve upon his performances in 2003. Junior Nate Lawrie (also a starting tight end on the Bulldog football squad) scored in the Heps in the Discus outdoors in 2002 and will be a contender in both the shot and discus. Lawrie was the first Eli thrower to score in all four throwing events against Harvard in 2002. Eoghan O'Dwyer should return to form in the Hammer and Discus after a virus sidelined him for much of 2002. Montana runner-up in the Javelin, Freshman Doug Czerwinski will look to follow in the successful shoes of his big brother Allen.

Middle Distance- Long the hallmark of Yale Track and Field, the middle distance group looks as strong as it has in some time. Led by Junior Robert Lobue, (5th on the all-time Yale list in 2:25.44) and classmate Robert Dwyer, (IC4A Qualifier in the indoor mile in 4:13) the middle distance group will be extremely deep and talented. Sophomore Joshua Yelsey showed flashes of brilliance as a frosh with the second best time in the conference in 1500m for a freshman with his 3:51 and should become a consistent performer from the 1500m through the 3,000m. Senior James Pearce returns to the team after having taken a year off and will add immediate depth from 800m through 1500m. Matthew Miltenberg and Reed Mauser should all contribute greatly from 800m through 1500m. The freshmen class should provide much needed depth to this area. Patrick Danzter was the Michigan state runner-up in 1600m in 4:15 and Mark Turner has run 4:17 for 1600m. Freshman Matthew Boshart was the NY state runner-up in the outdoor 800m in which he has a pr of 1:52 and has also run very fast at 400m (50.2), 1,000m (2:33), and 1600m (4:22). Courtland Keteyian will also add depth in the middle distances as he was the Michigan state 800m champion in 1:53. Mark Falco, Cole Carneseca, and Michael Marino have run very well from 400m through 1,000m and will look to contribute in the those areas.

Distance- Senior Cross Country Captain JC Reindl leads an extremely young group of distance men who will be counted on to contribute immediately to the Eli program. Reindl is among the top returners in the league at 10,000m, where he was an IC4A qualifier, and should make an impact at 5k as well. Sophomore Lucas Meyer comes off of an extremely successful freshman season in which he earned All-East honors by scoring in the IC4A's in addition to setting the Yale freshmen record for 5,000m in 14:31. Despite having run the steeple only twice before, Meyer scraped out a 5th place finish in the event at the 2002 outdoor Heps. His time of 9:00.91 was the top true freshman time in the nation. Sophomore Casey Moriarity showed promise in 2002. After an injury riddled autumn, he was among the teams top distance men recording pr's of 3:57 and 8:30. The freshmen class could provide immediate assistance. Andrew Johnson of Iowa was the state cross country runner-up and has pr's of 4:25 and 9:29, Erik Brown of New Jersey, was an NJ Meet of Champions qualifier in both cross country and outdoor track, and Bjorn Fredrickson of Washington who ran 4:26 and 9:29 his junior year before an injury sidelined him for his senior track season. This group, along with Danzter and Turner, look to make themselves known from 1500m through 10,000m.

Yale Women's Track & Field Preview

The 2001 team narrowly missed winning the Outdoor Heptagonal (Ivy League plus Navy) Championship. The 2003 team edition may be poised to again make a strong run at the top spot. Boasting a talented and deep distance corps, the Lady Elis have added several talented freshmen field events to complement an already proven sprint group. The result could be the deepest, most complete Yale squad ever.

Distances- Yale has dominated the Heps distance races for the past 2 years, led by All-Americans Laura and Kate O'Neill. 2003 should be more of the same. In 2002, Kate won the HEP's championships at 3,000meters indoors and out, was the outdoor champion at 5,000m and she was third indoors at one mile. Kate was also 9th at the Indoor NCAA Championship at 3,000m and fifth at the Outdoor Championship at 5,000m. Twin sister, Laura, won league championships at 5,000m indoors and 10,000m outdoors, while finishing 2nd at 5,000m indoors and 5,000m outdoors. Laura capped a tremendous junior season by finishing 3rd at the Outdoor NCAA Championships in the 10,000m.

The O'Neill's aren't the only contributors. Lindsay Mitchell, the 2001 New England Steeplechase champion, has personal bests of 4:56 for the mile, 9:52 for the 3,000m and Continued on Page Four 10:38 for the 3,000m steeplechase. Anne Martin ’05 was 4th in the 2002 Heptagonal steeplechase, and Alexandra Sawicki with a personal best of 17:30 for 5,000m along with sister Nadia Sawicki will provide solid scoring for Yale in the longer distances. This accomplished group of returnees will be further strengthened by the addition of several talented freshmen. Much heralded Julia Pudlin (4:56 for 1,600m, 10:27 for 3,200m), and Emily Vincent (4:58, 10:38) will be expected to provide further scoring punch for the Lady Elis in the longer distance races.

Middle Distances

The middle distances will also be strong for Yale. Rebecca Hunter (’04) is a 2-time HEC finalist at 1,500m with bests of 4:33 for 1,500m and 2:11 for 800m. Namesake, Rebecca Dickens, was a HEC scorer in 2002 at 800m with bests of 2:12.48 indoors and 2:10.86 outdoors. Freshman Margaret Donais, the Millrose High School Mile Champion at 4:53 in 2002, should be among the top milers in the league. Sophomore Vanessa Mazandi and Vanessa Everson, however, will also be expected to contribute significantly. Mazandi has a best of 2:12 for 800m. Captain Sarah Smith, a solid member of a Heptagonal Scoring 4X800m relay team in 2000, looks to return to form after two years of injuries. She will be joined by freshmen Katie Green and Rachel Harrington in providing depth to this strong group of middle distance runners.

Sprints

Though 100 meter dash record holder Sikira Backus (’02) has graduated, the Sprints should continue to be an area of strength for the Elis. Sophomore Candace Arthur (12.31, 25.09) and Aisha Cort will be joined by freshmen Joslyn Woodard (11.94) whose 100 best is faster than the Yale record, and Caroline Zier (12.42 and 25.51) in the short sprints. Anika Kreider ’03 (56.65), a two-time HEC scorer, will lead the 400 meter group with strong support expected from Stephanie Blake and Zier. 400 meter hurdles’ Becky Rauth, Katrina Svoboda and Kate Lawson will also provide considerable depth in this area.

Hurdles

Senior Becky Rauth leads a particularly strong group of Hurdlers. An All-Ivy performer in 2001, Rauth looks to return to the form that earned her a third place finish in the intermediate hurdles at the 2001 Heptagonals. Sophomore Katrina Svoboda missed making the finals at the 2002 Heptagonals by a mere .003 second and is... looking to break into the scoring ranks this year. Rauth and Svoboda are joined by freshman Kate Lawson the New York State Champ in the 400m hurdles and a finalist in the 100m hurdles last year. Lawson looks to be the top 100m hurdler on the team and will be joined by Svoboda and Rauth, both of whom showed promise in the shorter event last year.

Relays—This should once again be an area of strength for the Bulldogs. The addition of Woodard to the returning trio of Arthur, Cort and Blake should give Yale a crack at contending for the league title in the 4 X 100m. Long hurdlers, Rauth, Svoboda and Lawson will join Kreider, Blake and Arthur to give Yale a solid 4 X 400 as well. The returning quartet of Everding, Dickens, Hunter and Mazandi in the 4X800 meters had a seasonal best of 8:53 in '02. Captain Smith, converted 400 meter runner Noel Beagle (2:16) and frosh Katie Green (2:18) and Rachel Harrington give Coach Young many good options.

Field Events—The area of greatest improvement for the Bulldogs should be the field events. The arrival of freshmen pole vaulter Molly Lederman (13'1"), long jumper, Woodard (19-1), triple jumper, Dionna Thomas (39-1) and shot putter, Margo Angelopoulos (43-4") promise to make Yale a threat to score in all of those events. Lederman is a former National High School record holder indoors for the Vault. Woodard and Thomas would have placed high in the long and triple jumps at last year's HEPs. Woodard will be joined by hurdlers, Kate Lawson (18-2") and Katrina Svoboda. In addition to Thomas, freshman Tiffany Peterson will provide depth in the triple jump. Angelopoulos, will be called upon to learn the 20 lb weight and hammer throws. A talented athlete and high school basketball star, she should make the transition with minimal difficulty. Lisa Wygant returns as Yale's primary threat in the high jump. Lisa intends to build upon the progress she made in '02.
