Knights Next Level is an elite clinic for young players who are passionate about basketball and serious about improving. Knights Next Level immerses you in the sport, giving you the kind of focused and intense instruction that is essential for improvement. We not only focus on improving individual skills, but also providing athletes with well-rounded information on various aspects of elite performance, including nutrition, sport psychology and strength training. Knights Next Level recognizes the importance of female role models in the development of young girls. As a result, we boast all female coaches consisting of our Knights women’s basketball staff and players. With 16 hours of elite instruction and a focus on individual skill development, there is no better place to improve this spring.

Clinic Highlights

- Instruction by top coaches and elite athletes
- Individual athlete feedback
- Prizes and awards
- Clinic t-shirts
- Snacks and sport drinks
- Notable speakers and high performance videos

Members of the QC women’s basketball team will also be on hand to instruct and motivate.
