The 2017-21 PERA Strategic Vision outlines three priority areas critical to the overall mission of PERA. Those priorities, along with select 2016-17 accomplishments, are listed below.

Provide exceptional opportunities for students to learn, play and compete.

- Based on student input, PERA committed to long-term mental health programming, highlights included: an NCAA partner workshop, a $15k allocation for FY18 for sport psych and mental health emergency action plan
- Added two Middle Eastern dance classes in PE, both had full enrollment

Purposely engage students toward athletic, recreation and PE successes.

- 20% increase in Dorm/Class Crew participation because of altered scheduling based on student feedback
- Partnered with Associate Provost, Academic Director of Diversity & Inclusion for Senior Associate position to ensure diverse pool (68 applicants - 40 F 26 M 59% F; 16 diverse 23% of pool - 10 F 6 M), 3 finalists, two ethnic minority

Strengthen offerings and facilities through strategic resource attainment and allocation.

- Increased first year engagement and completion of PE requirement with use of t-shirts and by adjusting PE credited requirements for varsity student-athletes
- FOWCA Club Sport allocation increased from 3K to 8K
- Increased facility rental revenues from $100,000 to $112,000

HIGHLIGHTS

Three new classes were offered in the 2016-17:
Middle Eastern Dance, Running, and Soccer for Fitness

213 First Year students completed their PE requirement - the highest ever recorded (36%)

Dorm/Class Crew saw 40 students earn credit, a 30% increase over the previous year

201 students earned credit for club sports and other student organizations

125 students earned PE credit beyond the 8-credit requirement

“IN THEIR OWN WORDS”

The Student Evaluation Questionnaire (SEQ) response rate for part-time and full-time faculty in 2016-17 was 67%, a 2% increase from 2015-16 and a 21% increase from 2014-15.*

“I prioritize self-care and fitness more since starting this course, I’ve regularly come to the gym outside of PE since I don’t feel as intimidated. I also make more of an effort to walk around campus when I need to take a break from school, work, etc.”

“This class was a lot of fun, but most importantly, it gave me a lot of confidence. It was a safe space to work on movement and expression.”

“Yoga taught me the importance of meditation and relaxation that I really need in other parts of my life. Now if I am very stressed out I can use methods learned in yoga to clear my head and focus on the task at hand.”

“Overall, I’ve been making better, more conscious choices about taking care of my body since I genuinely feel better and have more energy since I started this class.”

HIGHLIGHTS

Full Moon Paddle

Just over 130 students enjoyed the annual Full Moon Paddle on Lake Waban on September 15th, 2016. This event, which requires no previous boating experience, allows the Recreation program to serve a diverse cross-section of the student-athlete population.

Life After Wellesley

Thanks to partnerships with the College Mentors and Residential Life, more than 60 Wellesley students attended workshops related to students’ experiences after Wellesley. Topics ranged from image and financial literacy to rental and housing basics and sustaining wellness after Wellesley.

The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) is made up of 28 members representing 14 teams. SAAC is the student-athlete voice on campus and aims to promote effective communication between student-athletes, coaches, and the athletic administration to create greater awareness of intercollegiate athletics for the participants as well as the community. 2017 E-Board: Zojajha Ayub ’19 (basketball), Mia Cagliaris ’19 (crew), and Mayu Kikuchi ’18 (lacrosse).

Over 100 current student-athletes welcomed 18 alumnae student-athletes for SAAC’s second annual Alumnae Networking Dinner on April 13th, 2017. The event sponsored in partnership with Career Educations and the Alumnae Association provided an opportunity for current and former student-athletes to engage about their time at Wellesley and learn about experiences following graduation.

VARSITY ATHLETICS
YEAR IN REVIEW

CREW - Blue Crew’s defense of their 2016 National Championship started with three events this fall. Wellesley opened the season with a 14th place showing from the Varsity in the Division I race at the Head of the Housatonic Regatta. The Blue’s second and third varsity boat’s also garnered second and third place finishes at the event, while the novice boats earned a pair of top-five finishes. The Blue then returned to the Head Of the Charles Regatta in Boston, taking 6th and 18th in the Women’s Collegiate Eights. Crew closed out the fall with an eighth-straight Seven Sisters Championship, overcoming the loss of the varsity boat’s rudder by sweeping the remaining races to win the title. Wellesley’s Kathryn Barth ’17 and Sydney Dollmeyer ’17 and Arielle Wons ’20 all earned All-Seven Sisters honors for the Blue.

CROSS COUNTRY - The Blue locked up three first place team finishes in 2016, winning the season opening Roger Williams Invitational, as well as the Bowdoin Invitational, and the Seven Sisters Championship. Wellesley earned the Seven Sisters title at Wellesley’s Nehoiden Golf Course behind All-Seven Sisters performances from Sonja Cwik ’17, Edie Sharon ’17, Sara Vannah ’17 and Taylor Fortnam ’18. The Blue would go on to take second at the NEWMAC Championships, with Cwik, Sharon, and Vannah honored as All-Conference performers. Cross Country ended the season at the NCAA Regional Championships in Westfield, Mass., where Cwik and Sharon capped their careers with All-Region accolades.

FIELD HOCKEY - A 10-8 season for Wellesley Field Hockey ended with an overtime loss to rival Mount Holyoke in the first round of the NEWMAC Tournament. The Blue entered the tournament with a 5-3 conference record and as the No. 4 seed, thanks to regular-season victories over Wheaton, WPI, Springfield and Clark. Three of those wins came in overtime off the stick of Hannah Maisano ’20, as the Wellesley first year scored three overtime game-winning goals in just her first season. The Blue earned a trio of NEWMAC All-Conference and NFHCA All-Region awards following the season, with Courtney Peterson ’17 and Nikki Sharkin ’17 landing on both first teams and Emmy Hamilton ’18 earning a spot on the second team at the conference and regional level.

GOLF - The golf team enjoyed arguably the best fall seasons in program history, earning three Liberty League Rookie of the Week awards and finishing fifth at the annual Ann S. Batchelder Invitational. The Blue opened the year with a team record score of 316 to defeat Husson and RIC at Nehoiden. With a one-over round of 73 at the event, Kalau Tanaka-Pesamino ’20 garnered the first Liberty League Rookie of the Year honor in program history. Classmate Ryan MacVicar ’20 then went on to win two Rookie of the Week awards after leading the Blue to a fifth place finish at the Mount Holyoke Invitational and a ninth place finish at the Williams Fall Classic.

SOCCER - Blue soccer started off the 2016 season, the first under the guidance of new Head Coach Missy Price, with three consecutive victories over Simmons, Farmington and Elms. Carley Phillips ’20 netted three goals and an assist in her first three collegiate games, earning NEWMAC Player of the Week honors on September 6. Phillips prowess, which later included a hat trick in a 4-0 NEWMAC victory over Coast Guard, earned the first year NEWMAC First Team All-Conference honors. Seniors Maddie Carlborg ’17 and Kyla Petrie ’17 combined to score nine more goals for the Blue, as Wellesley went 4-5-1 in conference play and made their first trip to the NEWMAC tournament since 2013. Soccer’s season came to an end with a NEWMAC first round setback at MIT.

TENNIS - Blue Tennis enjoyed a tremendous fall season, going 10-2 overall while making the team’s first appearance in the NEWMAC Championship match since 2013. The squad earned a big non-conference win over No. 30 TCNJ before enjoying a seven-match win streak from September 11-October 22 that included seven-straight wins over NEWMAC opponents. At the conclusion of the season, Sarah Yan ’20 earned NEWMAC Rookie of the Year honors to go along with first team All-Conference recognition in both singles and doubles. Yan led the way for Wellesley, as six players combined to win seven All-Conference awards, including: Yan, Justine Huang ’19, Korina Hernandez ’20, Selina Peng ’20 and Andjela Stojkovic ’17 in singles and Yan, Stojkovic, Peng and Rosanne Hu ’19 in doubles.

VOLLEYBALL - Led by NEWMAC All-Conference and AVCA Honorable Mention All-Region selection Yasmine Reece ’19, Volleyball finished the season with a 12-16 overall record. The team advanced to the NEWMAC tournament before ending the year with a 3-0 setback to Clark. Reece also earned a pair of NEWMAC Offensive Player of the Week honors during the year as the team earned wins over Bates, Colby and UMass Boston while also winning a pair of matches versus Maryville and Covenant when they traveled out-of-region to play in the 2016 Emory Invitational in Atlanta, Ga. The 3-2 win over UMass Boston was the highlight of the season, as the Beacons were the top-ranked team in the region entering the match that took place on the same day as the inauguration of Paula A. Johnson as Wellesley’s 14th President.

BASKETBALL - Blue basketball finished the 2016-17 season with an 8-14 overall record, good for ninth place in the NEWMAC standings. Half of the team’s roster was composed of first year players, including Caitlin Aguirre ’20, the team’s... leading scorer at 10.5 PPG. Aguirre’s success during her first season was awarded following the year, as she was named the 2016-17 NEWMAC Rookie of the Year, becoming the second Wellesley player to earn the honor and the first since Wellesley Athletics Hall of Famer Alix Wandesforde-Smith ’98 took home the honor following the 1994-95 season. The highlight reel moment of the year for basketball came on December 30, when Emily Kopp ’20 hit a buzzer-beating layup to give the Blue a 52-50 victory over Salisbury.

FENCING - The Blue ended the 2016-17 season with a 16-14 record in team competitions. Despite facing a highly competitive schedule that included matchups with Division I squads including Cornell and Harvard, the team had the most wins for the program since the 2010-11 edition of the Blue went 22-5. Highlighting the year, Wellesley’s 14-13 win over Vassar was the first for the Blue in the last ten years over their Seven Sisters rival. The team’s success continued into the postseason as fencing qualified seven fencers for the 2017 NCAA Regional in Jasmine Smith ’98, Madeleine Barowsky ’18, Emma Brewer-Wallin ’18, Taylor Hood ’18, Meg Harney ’19, Cassandra Cronin ’19, and Brie Brewer-Wallin ’18. For the second year in-a-row, Hood was the Blue’s top-fencer in the competition, finishing 21st overall and sixth among Division III fencers.

SQUASH - The squash team opened the year with a 3-1 record, including a big 5-4 victory over No. 19 Colby – at the time the Blue were ranked No. 23 in the College Squash Association (CSA). The team ultimately ended the year with an 8-12 overall record and the No. 28 ranking at the conclusion of the CSA Epps Cup. The Blue’s Epps Cup run included a first round victory over Conn. College, before they were relegated to the consolation final with a setback to Hamilton. Seven Sisters rival Mount Holyoke then topped the Blue in the final match at the CSA’s Epps Cup playoffs, repeating their victory from earlier in the season when the Lyons defeated Wellesley in the de facto championship match of the annual Seven Sisters Championship to end Wellesley’s string of consecutive Seven Sisters titles at three. It was announced following the season that Squash would compete as a club sport beginning in 2017-18.

SWIMMING & DIVING - Blue swimming & diving went 5-5 in dual meets in 2016-17, earning wins over Mount Holyoke, Babson, Coast Guard and Trinity (Conn.). The season included NEWMAC Weekly awards for Sunny Chiang ’19, Cathy Chen ’19 and Maura Sticco-Ivins ’18 (3x), as well as the Blue’s 200 Medley Relay Team of Chen, Danielle Peterson ’20, Karen Wang ’19, and Crystal Zhu ’19. The Blue swept the NEWMAC Weekly Honors on 1/23/17 after winning the squads 20th consecutive Seven Sisters Championship. Wellesley went on to place fifth at the 2017 NEWMAC Championships, where Sticco-Ivins won both 1-meter and 3-meter diving to claim first team All-Conference and NEWMAC Diver of the Year honors. Sticco-Ivins and Maddie Stern ’17 advanced to the NCAA Diving Regionals, where Sticco-Ivins again swept both boards to advance to the NCAA Championships. She then became the first diver since 2011 to win national championships on both boards. Sticco-Ivins was named CSCAA Diver of the Year and Diving Coach Jack Lewis was named the CSCAA Diving Coach of the Year.

INDOOR TRACK & FIELD - Sonja Cwik ’17 capped the indoor track & field season by representing Wellesley in the 3000m at the 2017 NCAA Indoor Championships. The appearance at nationals was the first for Cwik, who broke a 29-year-old school record in the event earlier in the season and then lowered her own mark on the final day of the season to earn a spot in the field. Cwik was one of two USTFCCCA All-Region performers for the Blue in 2016-17, as classmate Isabella Narvaez ’17 joined her thanks to her performance in the 200m. In all, the Blue sent five runners to the New England DIII Championships in Narvaez, Cwik, Edie Sharon ’17, Sara Vannah ’17, and Isabella King ’18. The same five also qualified for the New England Open championships, where they were joined by Taylor Fortnam ’17.

SPRING

CREW - Blue Crew returned to the NCAA Championships for the eighth consecutive year in 2017, finishing in third place overall in the team standings thanks to a bronze medal performance from the Varsity 8 and a silver medal finish by the 2nd Varsity. The Blue secured their bid to NCAAs by winning the programs seventh-consecutive NEWMAC Championship. Kathryn Barth ’17, Olivia Duggan ’17, Stephanie Kim ’18, and Ali Rondeau ’17 were all named All-Conference, while Barth was named Rower of the Year for the second time in her career (2015) and Kim was awarded Coxswain of the year for the third time in as many years. Both Barth (1st Team) and Duggan (2nd Team) would later add All-American awards to their name at the end of the season, following a spring in which the Varsity 8 took 4th at both the New England Rowing Championships and the National Invitational Rowing Championships.

GOLF - The Blue carried over momentum from a successful fall season, showing well in three tournaments in the spring. Following a ninth place finish at the Vassar Invitational and a seventh place finish following a 17-stroke improvement at the Jack Leaman Invitational, Wellesley matched a program-best with a 3rd place finish at the Liberty League Championships. The team placed two golfers in the top-ten, as Ryan MacVicar ’20 and Maya Muldowney ’18 took sixth and eighth, respectively, to become the first golfers in program history to earn Liberty League All-Conference honors.

LACROSSE - The Blue lacrosse squad finished 2017 with a 9-8 overall record and a 4-4 mark in conference play, advancing to the NEWMAC semifinals with a 15-9 quarterfinal victory over Wheaton. The team’s season would come to an end in a 14-5 defeat to Babson, but Wellesley’s strong play throughout the year was awarded with five All-Conference selections, as Nikki Sharkin ’17 was placed on the first team, while Courtney Peterson ’17, Wendy Nettleton ’17, Jenna Mulrenan ’18 and Dacia Persky ’19 all earned second team honors. Sharkin would also earn All-Region accolades, becoming the first Wellesley field hockey and lacrosse dual student-athlete to collect all-region honors since Jacy Edelman ’99, and the first to do so in the same year since Wellesley Athletics Hall of Famer Jessica Gosnell ’90 accomplished the feat in 1989-90.
OUTDOOR TRACK & FIELD  -  Isabella Narvaez ’17 earned USTFCCCA All-Region honors in the 400m, while both Narvaez (400m) and Sonja Cwik ’17 (5000m) earned NEWMAC All-Conference honors during the annual championship meet during the spring season. Narvaez, Cwik, Edie Sharon ’17 and Sara Vannah ’17 all qualified for the Open New England Championships in 2017 but did not advance to NCAAs. The Blue took sixth at the NEWMAC Championships, 18th at the New England Division III Championships. The team set multiple school records in 2017, including Narvaez in the 200m, Cathy Chen ’19 in the 100m hurdles, Crystalina Guo ’20 in the discus, Helen Andersen ’19 in the hammer, and Isabella King ’18 in the javelin.

SOFTBALL  -  Softball finished the 2017 season with an 18-12 record and an 11-7 record in the NEWMAC. The season was highlighted by a nine-game win streak in early April but ended on day two of the NEWMAC tournament in a setback at WPI. The team’s final win of the season, a 2-1 victory over Wheaton on day one of the NEWMAC tournament, was a milestone for both the program and Head Coach Keri O’Meara, as it was the 300th win in program history -- all of which have come under the direction of O’Meara. Following the season Ashtyn Coleman ’17, Anna Pisac ’17, and Amanda Manning ’18 all earned all-conference honors, with Coleman and Pisac landing on the first team and Manning on the second. The trio also garnered all-region honors, while Pisac was also named a CoSIDA Academic All District first team selection.

TENNIS  -  Tennis wrapped up 2016-17 with nine matches in the spring of 2017, beginning with a trip to take on Concordia Irvine in Southern California. Wellesley finished as the runner-up at the annual Seven Sisters Championship, going 3-1 with a setback to champion Vassar. The Blue then concluded the season with an exciting 5-4 win over Swarthmore during the team’s annual Nor’easter Bowl tournament, as Sarah Yan ’20 clinched the No. 3 singles match to win the match for the Blue.

2016-17 CLUB SPORTS YEAR IN REVIEW

ARCHERY  -  Archery’s season highlights included an increased roster size and four team members competing at the National Outdoor Collegiate Championships, the most in team history. During the four competitions leading up to nationals, Archery brought home six first place honors and three second place medals and two members of the team were ranked top-two in the state for the season.

EQUESTRIAN  -  Equestrian’s new coach, Krisanna Onorato set a strong foundation for the 2017-18 year. While the team did not compete consistently, a record number of roster additions were made during a productive transition year.

ICE HOCKEY  -  Ice Hockey made use of neighboring Babson’s club program to join up for practice and informal play. The club is hopeful that its coach search will provide good momentum heading into the 2017-18 year.

NORDIC SKIING  -  Nordic had a breakout year, qualifying for Nationals in its first year as a SOFC funded club. The team’s focus on recruiting and the addition of a well seasoned coach produced a roster of 35, which held steady throughout the year.

RUGBY  -  Rugby competed in four 7’s tournaments, three of which were new to the schedule. A highlight of the team’s season was the 15’s tournament the ‘Beast of the East’, where nearly 80 regional teams competed. Three players scored their first tries this season: Emma Gyorgy ’18, Sarah Lewites ’18, and Alex Shook ’20. Rugby also sent three players to a brand new scrumhalf clinic to develop their skills: Alexis Corcoran ’18, Jordanne Stobbs’ Vergara ’19 and Alex Shook ’20.

SAILING  -  Sailing competed in two regattas this season. The main focus for the team was practice schedules to help with roster retention.

ULTIMATE FRISBEE  -  Ultimate competed in five tournaments in the fall and 10 in the spring. The team was honored to have Grace Chen ’19 selected as the Club Sport representative to Friends of Athletics. Another highlight included the annual Millyfest, celebrating the memory of Molly “Milly” Thompson ’04 who took her life in the summer of 2001. The goal of the tournament is to raise awareness and funds for the Samaritans of Boston. The team raised $3,200 in loving memory of Milly.

WATER POLO  -  Water polo kicked off its season undefeated at the Yale and Bowdoin tournaments, placing the team in first place heading into the regional championship. Despite making it to the finals during that tournament, the team fell just short of earning a bid to Nationals, finishing 2nd in the division for the second year in-a-row.
