Off the Bench

THE PARTICULARS

The Bryant University men’s basketball team opens a five-game road stretch when the Bulldogs travel to Yale for a Wednesday night contest in New Haven.

Scouting the Yale Bulldogs

Yale is 4-4 following Monday’s 76-66 victory at Delaware. The Bulldogs have won over South Carolina State, Curry College, Alcorn State and Delaware with the losses coming to Creighton, Wisconsin, Albany and Vermont. Yale’s strength of schedule ranks in the top 100 in KenPom as of Tuesday.

The Series

The Bulldogs are in double figures this year, led by 15.9 points per game from Miye Oni. Oni has also grabbed a team-high 5.6 rebounds per game. 47.5 percent of Yale’s field goal attempts come from beyond the arc, which ranks in the top 5.6 rebounds per game.

Director of Operations:
WE LIKE IKE
Sophomore Ikenna Ndubga is averaging 14.0 points per game over his last four contests with at least 15 points in three of four. Ndubga had 16 points, 10 rebounds and a career-high five steals in Friday’s win at Hartford.

MR. STEAL YOUR PASS
Sophomore Ikenna Ndubga enters the week leads the NEC and ranks 17th in the nation with 2.7 steals per game. Ndubga has recorded a steal in 4.5 percent of defensive possessions, according to KenPom.com.

TOWNES ENJOYS A THANKSGIVING FEAST
Sophomore Sebastian Townes had his two highest scoring outputs of his career in the Bulldogs’ Thanksgiving weekend games. Townes scored a career-high 19 points in Friday’s win at Hartford and followed that with 22 points and seven rebounds Sunday against Brown.

GRAND START FOR GRANT
Sophomore Adam Grant has averaged 17.5 points per game on the year with 14 or more points in five of six games. Grant has collected 20 or more points six times in his first 38 collegiate games and 10 or more in 26 of 38.

Grant reached the 500-point mark for his career with nine points Nov. 21 at Rutgers. The sophomore guard reached the mark in his 36th career game, which is tied with Notre Zouzoua for the third-fastest to reach the 500-point plateau in Bryant’s Division I era. Darien Starks reached 500 points in 29 games in 2012-13, while Alex Francis did it in his 35th contest in 2011-12.

IMMEDIATE IMPACT
Freshman Ryan Layman has recorded 7.3 points and 6.0 rebounds per game in his first six collegiate contests. Layman tallied a career-high 14 points at NC State (11/14) - his first career start.

10-4
Four Bulldogs scored at least 10 points against NC State (11/14), Navy (11/18) and Hartford (11/24). Three players were the same against all three opponents - Adam Grant, Bosko Kostur and Sebastian Townes.

CARROLL, MARTIN BIG ON THE BOARDS
Senior Aram Martin and freshman Brandon Carroll combined for 14 rebounds in at Rutgers (11/21). Carroll grabbed a career-high eight rebounds, while Martin collected a career-best six.

BULLDOG OPENERS
For the sixth-straight year, Bryant opened the season against either a team from a Power 5 conference and/or a nationally ranked opponent. The list is a collection of household names:

- 2017: Georgia
- 2016: Notre Dame
- 2015: Duke
- 2014: UC Irvine
- 2013: Gonzaga
- 2012: Indiana

SOPHOMORES ON THE RISE
A trio of Bryant sophomores look to play major roles for the Bulldogs in 2017-18. Adam Grant was an NEC All-Rookie Team selection in 2016-17, leading conference freshmen with 13.4 PPG - the most by a Bryant freshman since Alex Francis in 2010-11. Grant ranked second in the NEC in minutes in 2016-17 at just under 36 per game.

Ikenna Ndubga was one of the leading point guards in the NEC a year ago, averaging 4.1 assists per game, good for third in the NEC and 17th among Division I freshmen. His 1.8 assist-to-turnover ratio led the NEC and placed him 22nd nationally among freshmen.

Sabastian Townes looks to play an increased role in the post for the Bulldogs in 2017-18 after being a solid contributor off the bench for Bryant a year ago. Townes shot 51.2 percent from the floor in a freshman in 13 minutes per game. Townes averaged 32.2 points per game and shot 57.9 percent last year in games in which he played 20 minutes or more.

MEET THE NEWCOMERS

Head Coach Tim O’Shea and Bryant welcome six newcomers to the court for the 2017-18 season. Two of those new Bulldogs - Brandon Carroll and Monty Umrilevicus - take the floor this fall with a year already in the program, as the pair both redshirted a year ago. The 6-7 Carroll and 6-8 Umrilevicus will add size for a Bryant team that ranked in the middle of the NEC in rebounding in 2016-17. Aram Martin, a 6-10 forward who played two seasons at Brown, makes the move up to Smithfield as a graduate transfer.

They are joined by a trio of freshmen who joined the program this summer. Massachusetts native Ryan Layman arrives in Smithfield along with 7-1 big man Dred Dedushaj from Brooklyn and California native Charles Dudley. Bryant has also added UNC Asheville transfer Malik Smith, who will sit out the 2017-18 season due to NCAA transfer rules.

BY ASSOCIATION

Two of Bryant’s incoming freshmen have family ties to the NBA. Charles Dudley is the son of 16-year NBA center Chris Dudley, who played in the league from 1987-2003 with six of those seasons coming in Portland. Ryan Layman also has ties to the franchise in the Rose City, as his older brother Jake enters his second season in Portland in 2017-18.

A TALL TASK

Bryant is the tallest team in the NEC in 2017-18 with an average height of 77.73 inches (6’5-3/4”) among the team. The closest NEC team to the Bulldogs is Central Connecticut at 77 inches, while Saint Francis U is the shortest team in the conference at 74.94 inches. Bryant is tied with Mount St. Mary’s for the most players at 6-7 or taller with seven.

BRIGHT LIGHTS

The Bulldogs’ nonconference schedule features five games against high-major opponents. Bryant followed its season opener at Georgia with a trip to Raleigh for a clash with NC State (Nov. 14). Bryant’s fourth game of the year came in the Garden State against Big Ten member Rutgers (Nov. 21), as the Bulldogs opened the year with three “Power 5” opponents in their first four games. The December slate is not much lighter, as Bryant faces Rutgers again and adds Big East foe Marquette (Dec. 1) and Big Ten foe Northwestern (Dec. 7) to its December schedule.

NICE TO ACC YOU AGAIN

Bryant has played at least one ACC member in every season since joining Division I in 2008-09 and continues that run this season with a pair of ACC games against NC State (Nov. 14) and Louisville (Dec. 11). The Bulldogs’ lone win over an ACC member came Nov. 25, 2012, when the Bulldogs traveled to Boston College - Coach O’Shea’s alma mater - and walked away with a 56-54 win.
BRYANT TO TAKE PART IN GOTHAM CLASSIC

For the third consecutive season, the Bulldogs will compete in a major tournament, as they participate in the Gotham Classic. The five-team field includes Bryant, Albany, Louisville, Memphis and Siena, with the Bulldogs’ portion of the event being played over a four-game stretch in mid-December. Bryant will open the event by traveling to Albany (Dec. 6) before trips to Memphis (Dec. 9) and Louisville (Dec. 11). The Bulldogs receive a home game against Siena (Dec. 17) to close out their part of the event.

DOZEN HOME DATES AHEAD

Bryant will play 12 regular-season home games, beginning with the home opener against Navy (Nov. 18). The clash with the Midshipmen is one of just three nonconference home games for the Bulldogs, who also host Brown (Nov. 26) and Siena (Dec. 17) in preparation for the 18-game NEC schedule that begins at the Chace Athletic Center vs. Robert Morris (Dec. 29).

NO PLACE LIKE HOME

The confines of the Chace Athletic Center have been good to the Bulldogs over the last five seasons, especially in NEC play. Bryant is 44-33 (.589) at home since the start of the 2012-13 season and 29-15 (.659) in conference play.

The three occupants of the Chace Athletic Center - Bryant’s men’s and women’s basketball and volleyball teams - went a combined 31-10 (.756) on the floor in Smithfield in 2016-17 and 21-4 (.840) in NEC play.

BRYANT VS. THE NORTHEAST CONFERENCE

Bryant improved four games in the NEC standings in 2016-17 and 21-4 (.840) in NEC play.

Now entering his 10th season at the helm of the Bryant University men's basketball team in 2017-18, head coach Tim O'Shea brings an enormous amount of experience and success to the Bulldog sideline as the program continues to excel at the Division I level.

Through his first nine seasons in Smithfield, O'Shea has turned the Bulldogs into a premier program in the Northeast, taking Bryant to three-straight NEC Tournaments from 2012-15, as well as a national postseason appearance in the College Basketball Invitational (CBI). Since his arrival on campus, O'Shea has turned the program around, leading the Bulldogs to key victories over such programs as Boston College, Lehigh, Denver, Robert Morris and LIU Brooklyn.

A former assistant at the University of Rhode Island and Boston College, O'Shea spent seven years as the head coach at Ohio University before arriving at Bryant. And after guiding the Bulldogs to a 19-11 record and berth in the CBI in the program's first year eligible for postseason play in 2012-13, O'Shea signed a contract extension through June 2020 based on performance and milestone triggers.

"Coach O'Shea has done a remarkable job in guiding our men's basketball program through the difficult transition to Division I," said university president Ronald K. Machleit. "To have a winning season and quality for the postseason in our first year of eligibility, speaks volumes for the type of experienced leader coach O'Shea brings to our program. As a recruiter, Tim brings high quality student-athletes to our campus who represent our institution in a first-class manner both in the classroom and on the court."

Bryant went 9-5 at the Chace Athletic Center in 2016-17 and 7-2 in NEC games. The Bulldogs picked up home wins over both NEC members to make national postseason appearances (Mount St. Mary's and Saint Francis U) and swept the season series against perennial conference power Robert Morris. Bryant grabbed a first-team NEC all-conference selection and an all-rookie team honor in Adam Grant. Bryant finished fifth in the NEC.

The 2015-16 Bulldogs placed two freshmen on the NEC all-rookie team and the NEC Rookie of the Year. The Bulldogs hosted a SWAC member for the first time with a November victory over Prairie View A&M and closed the season with a win on the road at LIU Brooklyn.

In 2014-15, O'Shea led the Bulldogs not just to their third-straight NEC Tournament berth, but to the program's first postseason win at the Division I level with a double-overtime 91-85 victory over Sacred Heart in the NEC Quarterfinals. Bryant, who finished 14-2 in the regular-season standings, saw three players named all-conference selections, with senior Dyami Starks going on to take home USBWA and NABC All-District honors for his 2014-15 performance.

In 2013-14, O'Shea led the Bulldogs to their second-consecutive trip to the postseason, finishing the regular season with an 18-14 overall mark and a third-place finish in the Northeast Conference standings. Under O'Shea's leadership, Bryant won double-digit games in back-to-back seasons for the first time in Division I history, with a 37-26 (.587) overall mark since the 2012-13 season.

Following a 2-28 season in 2011-12, Bryant was picked 10th in the NEC Preseason Coaches' poll in 2012-13, but served notice to its conference foes with breakthrough non-league wins over Boston College and Lehigh on the road. The Black and Gold would finish with a 19-11 overall record and a tie for second place in the NEC standings with a 12-6 league mark. After jumping out to a 6-0 start in NEC play, fans at the Chace Athletic Center began to take notice, and by season's end, the Bulldogs had been ranked in the Mid-Major Top 25 for seven weeks. The campaign would lead to a berth in the CBI tournament, named in the program's first year of postseason eligibility.

The team's 19-11 record in 2012-13 marked one of the best single-season turnarounds in NCAA history and led the nation in pure win improvement, earning 17 more victories than it had a season ago. The 17-win jump was also the biggest in NEC history, eclipsing CCSU's 15-win jump from 1997-98 to 1998-99, and the 11-win bump in NEC play was the most in league annals, one better than LIU Brooklyn's 10-win improvement from 1995-96 to 1996-97.

The Bulldogs earned the first victory of the program's new Division I history just three games into the 2008-09 season, defeating Northeast Conference foe Quinnipiac University, 59-50, in New York City. From there, wins over Yale and league foes Fairleigh Dickinson, Long Island, Saint Francis (PA), Wagner, Central Connecticut and St. Francis (NY) soon followed, along with another win over the Bobcats and a 70-46 topping of NJIT.

With just a single class of Division I recruits in its ranks and injuries to key players plaguing the lineup, Bryant struggled to see the same success in 2009-10, a year that would mark the beginning of a rebuilding process in the program's third year of Division I transition. The Bulldogs took a 52-51 road win over Wagner on Feb. 18 and saw rookie Vlad Kondratyev earn the program's first-ever all-conference postseason honor, named to the NEC All-Rookie Team.

O'Shea's patience paid off during the 2010-11 campaign, as he saw his first Division I recruiting class, as well as the addition of key players who were forced to sit out a season due to NCAA transfer rules, prove that it could compete against quality programs in the region and country. Led by redshirt-sophomore Frankie Dobbs, as well as the emergence of a new Bryant star in freshman Alex Francis, the Bulldogs picked up victories against seven NEC foes in 2010-11.

In his seven seasons at the helm in Athens, Ohio, O'Shea was the architect of a Bobcat program that rose to greatness not just within the MAC but also having an impact on the national stage.

In his last four seasons alone, O’Shea’s Bobcats compiled 79 wins, captured a MAC title while being named college basketball’s “It” team by ESPNU.com. O’Shea was 120-95 during his tenure at Ohio, including nine over notable college basketball powerhouse, including North Carolina, Virginia, Butler and the University of Maryland, as well as prominent programs such as DePaul and Cincinnati. In 2007-08, O’Shea’s last year with the Bobcats, Ohio posted a 20-13 record and reached the second round of the College Basketball Invitational (CBI). He left Athens as the fifth all-time winningest coach in program history.

O’Shea’s commitment to excellence on and off the floor is a product of the lessons he learned on the bench at several other Division I institutions, his head coaching career beginning after extensive experience as an assistant in the Ivy League, the Atlantic 10 and the Big East.

His coaching career began as a graduate assistant at the University of Rhode Island and Boston College, using that experience in his first full-time appointment, coming at Yale in 1986. O'Shea spent the next two seasons with the Bulldogs before making his next stop up the coaching ladder — returning to URI for a spot on Al Skinner's staff.

O’Shea spent nine seasons at URI, playing a key role in the Rams’ bids into two NCAA tournaments and a pair of NIT berths. During his time at URI, O’Shea’s most notable recruit came in the form of former NBA star Cuttino Mobley.

In the spring of 1997, O’Shea returned to his alma mater alongside Skinner. In four seasons at Boston College, he helped build the Eagles into the Big East regular-season and tournament champions in 2000-01.

BC posted a 27-5 record that season, earning a No. 3 seed for the NCAA East Regional and finishing the year with a No. 9 ranking in the Ratings Percentage Index (RPI) just two years after being ranked 246.

But O’Shea was no stranger to success in the Eagles locker room. After earning All-America accolades at Wayland (Mass.) High School, O’Shea played for some of the most successful squads in Boston College history. The Eagles won two Big East regular-season titles and earned four postseason tournament berths during his career, advancing twice to the NCAA tournament’s Sweet 16 and once to the Elite Eight.

O’Shea graduated from Boston College in 1984 with a bachelor’s degree in communication and a minor in English. He went on to add a master’s degree in counseling/psychology from BC two years later.

Named head coach at a campus press conference on June 23, 2008, O’Shea becomes the seventh Bryant men’s basketball coach in school history and only the third since 1989-90. He and his wife, Elizabeth, reside in Newport, R.I. with their daughter, Madeleine.

GAME 1
NOV. 10, 2017 || ATHENS, GA.

KEY MOMENTS
- Bryant opened the scoring on a jumper by sophomore Adam Grant before Georgia responded with an 11-0 run.
- The Black and Gold had cut the deficit to 25-15 with 7:39 remaining in the first half on a layup by senior Hunter Ware, but Georgia responded with a 29-5 run that spanned both halves to take control.
- Bryant closed the game on a 13-4 run with four points from freshman Monty Urmilevicius.

STATS/NOTES
- Freshman Ryan Layman had the first performance of 10+ points and 7+ rebounds in a Bryant debut since 2010.
- The game marked the sixth-consecutive season that Bryant has opened the season against either a major conference or nationally ranked opponent.
- Sophomore Adam Grant was in double-figures in scoring for the 22nd time in 33 college games.
- Freshman Brandon Carroll, Ryan Layman and Monty Urmilevicius all made their debut debuts.

GAME 2
NOV. 14, 2017 || RALEIGH, N.C.

KEY MOMENTS
- Bryant started the game on a 14-3 run with five points each from Adam Grant and freshman Ryan Layman.
- The Wolfpack responded and took its lead with a pair of free throws with 10:33 remaining in the half to lead 23-21.
- After NC State took a 10-point lead into the half, both teams cooled off from the field. The Wolfpack limited the Bulldogs to 10 points in the first 10 minutes of the second half to extend the cushion and led by at least 17 the rest of the way.

STATS/NOTES
- Adam Grant led the Bulldogs with 24 points for the second game against a career-high six assists.
- Sebastian Townes had 13 points and matched his career high with eight rebounds in 17 minutes off the bench.
- Grant has averaged 19.4 points in two games against major-conference or nationally ranked opponents (NC State, Georgia, North-western, Gonzaga, Notre Dame).
- Ryan Layman made his first career start.

GAME 3
NOV. 18, 2017 || SMITHFIELD, R.I.

KEY MOMENTS
- Bryant responded from a pair of seven-point first-half deficits to take a 35-33 lead into the locker room. Bosko Kostur had 16 points in the opening 20 minutes.
- Bryant led 50-47 before a 12-2 Navy run gave the Midshipmen a 7-point advantage midway through the second half. Navy led 70-58 before a 9-0 run by the Bulldogs, fueled by a pair of three-pointers from Adam Grant, to cut it to 70-67 with 1:22 to go. The Midshipmen would pull away in the closing minutes, icing the game at the free-throw line.

STATS/NOTES
- Kostur tallied 25 points — one shy of his career-high — on 9-of-13 shooting while going 5-of-5 from beyond the arc. The senior added six rebounds.
- Ikenna Ndugba recorded a season-high 15 points and career-best eight assists.
- Grant chipped in with 14 points in 11 coming in the second half. The sophomore guard is averaging 20.7 points per game through three contests.
- Sebastian Townes added 11 points and eight rebounds. Townes is averaging 12.0 points and 8.0 rebounds per game in his first two contests of the year.

GAME 4
NOV. 21, 2017 || PISCATAWAY, N.J.

KEY MOMENTS
- Rutgers opened the game on an 11-2 run, but Bryant responded to take a 15-14 lead with 12:38 to go in the half.
- The Scarlet Knights rattled off a 13-0 run to push the lead to double digits at 31-17. Bryant would bring the deficit within eight at 42-34 before Rutgers scored the final five points of the half.
- In a back-and-forth second half, Bryant cut it to 65-53 on a jumper by Hunter Ware with 7:35 to go, but Rutgers answered to pull away down the stretch.

STATS/NOTES
- Ikenna Ndugba tallied 15 points for the second-straight game.
- Amam Arkin posted a pair of career-highs with six points and six rebounds.
- Brandon Carroll added career-highs in points (4) and rebounds (8).
- Ryan Layman tallied eight points and six rebounds.
- Martin (20) and Carroll (17) played career-highs in minutes.
- The 12 players to see action was the highest total of the season.
GAME 5
BRYANT 78, HARTFORD 73
NOV. 24, 2017 || WEST HARTFORD, CONN.

KEY MOMENTS
- Bryant opened the game on a 13-3 run with all five starters scoring. Ndugba had five points in the opening spurt that led to a Hartford timeout at 16:30.
- Hartford cut it to within 37-33 with 1:42 to go in the half, but five straight Bryant points to close the half gave the Bulldogs a 42-33 advantage into the locker room.
- Bryant had a 14-point second-half advantage before Hartford pulled within 73-70 with 2:54 to go, but the Bulldogs held the Hawks to three points the rest of the way to close out the victory.

STATS/NOTES
- Sophomore Ikenna Ndugba tallied 16 points, 10 rebounds and a career-high five assists.
- Sophomore Sebastian Townes had a career-high 19 points while grabbing six rebounds.
- Sophomore Adam Grant added 16 points while senior Bosko Kostur chipped in 12 and senior Hunter Ware had a season-high eight.
- Bryant did not trail in the contest.

GAME 6
BROWN 81, BRYANT 67
NOV. 26, 2017 || SMITHFIELD, R.I.

KEY MOMENTS
- Brown led 16-12 before a 10-2 Bryant run gave the Bulldogs a 22-18 lead. The run was started by a three-pointer by senior Hunter Ware (Ga.) to beat the shot-clock buzzer.
- Brown led 40-36 at the half and led for the first 11 minutes of the second half. Bryant regained the lead on a Grant three-pointer with 8:20 to go.
- The Bears went on a 15-1 run to turn a 59-57 deficit into a 72-60 advantage and closed out the game at the free-throw line.

STATS/NOTES
- Sophomore Sabastian Townes’ career-high 22 points came on 9-of-16 shooting and 4-of-5 from the free-throw line. Townes also grabbed seven rebounds, one shy of his career-best.
- Townes’ career-high 22 points eclipsed his previous best of 19 set Friday at Hartford.
- Sophomore Adam Grant had 18 points with the help of a trio of three-pointers. Grant added five assists.
- 50 of Bryant’s 67 points came from its sophomores.
