* Conference game
Coach Naumovski completed her fourth season at the helm of the Queens College women's basketball program in 2014–15; a year that added to her growing list of superlatives.

In 2014-15 the program achieved back-to-back 20-win seasons for the first time in the college's Division II history. Finishing with a 22-8 record, the team was crowned East Coast Conference Champions and received a NCAA tournament berth as the #5 seed in the East Region. Naumovski also moved into third place on the all-time wins list at QC. As a team, the Knights continued to earn national recognition as a defensive powerhouse, ranking 7th in the country in steals/game, 25th in defensive field goal percentage, 36th in three-point field goal defense, and 32nd in turnover margin.

In commemoration of the 40th anniversary of the first women’s game ever played at Madison Square Garden (February 22, 1975), the team participated in the Maggie Dixon Classic on January 4, 2015. In a revenge match 40 years in the making, the Knights defeated Immaculata University (76-60) while entering the Maggie Dixon Classic record books as well. The team set the record for field goals attempted (74), and tied the record for field goals made (32). Madison Rowland was one point shy of the record for points scored, but tied the record for field goals made (12) and steals (6). Big sister MacKenzie Rowland tied the Classic record with six blocks.

Under Naumovski's guidance, four members of the 2014-15 Knights were selected for individual honors. Joya McFarland, Madison Rowland, and MacKenzie Rowland were all selected to the ECC All-Tournament team, with Madison Rowland being named the tournament's Most Valuable Player. Kristen Korzewinski was an All-ECC Honorable Mention, finishing first in the conference in field goal percentage (52.4%) and games started. MacKenzie Rowland added to her growing list of accolades by being selected All-ECC Second Team and All-Met Second Team. In addition, the junior finished 18th in the country in blocks and has already earned her place in the Queens College women's basketball program. Once again, Rowland led the country in steals (125), led all sophomores in the country in scoring (20.9 ppg), recorded her second career triple double, finished 13th in the nation with eighteen double doubles, and recorded her 1,000th career point. Rowland was selected a Third Team All-America, First Team All-Region, All-Met Co-Player of the Year, and ECC Player of the Year.

After a 10-game improvement in 2012-13, Coach Naumovski nearly equaled the task by reaching the 20-win plateau in 2013-14. This achievement was good enough to propel her to ECC Coach of the Year, runner-up status. Additionally, the 20-win season was the 15th-best turnaround in the nation in 2013-14, and the 20-win season by the Knights was just the second time in the last 30 years that the plateau was reached. All of this led to the team reaching the ECC Semi-Final game and earning a #9 NCAA East Region ranking. Naumovski was also invited to the 2014 Center for Coaching Excellence and Marine Leadership Workshop.

Under her auspices, MacKenzie Rowland took home All-ECC Second Team and All-Met Second Team honors, while Madison Rowland was the ECC Rookie of the Year, Defensive Player of the Year, All-ECC First Team, All-Region Second Team, All-Met First Team, and Small Colleges Bulletin All Rookie Team. She was also the NCAA Statistical Champion in steals and led all freshmen in scoring.
The 2012-13 Knights displayed a nationally-recognized turnaround, showing a 10-win improvement over the previous season, which led to Naumovski being named East Coast Conference Coach of the Year by her peers.

The Knights also received a number of individual accolades in the 2012-13 season. Most notable was the standout performance by point guard Bria Jackson, who set the school record for most points in a game (49), finished sixth in the nation in scoring (20.0 ppg), and first in the ECC in assists per game (4.5). She had a buzzer-beater against Bowie State featured on ESPN SportsCenter’s Top Ten Plays, took home the ECC Player of the Week award twice, earned First Team All-ECC accolades, was named to the All-Met First Team, and eventually captured Honorable Mention All-America.

The top freshman honor went to Kristen Korzevinski, who was recognized as the ECC Rookie of the Year. Korzevinski led all freshmen in scoring, was named ECC Rookie of the Week four times, scored in double digits 16 times, and ranked third among all players in the conference in scoring efficiency.

Naumovski’s previous college experience includes a two-year stint as an assistant at NCAA Division I institution, Binghamton University. She coached a pair of America East conference all-stars in each campaign, and helped the Bearcats to the 2009 conference semifinals. She was actively involved in all facets of the program including, scouting, recruitment, on-court coaching, and player development. Among the highlights of Naumovski’s time at BU was her development of Erica Carter and Jackie Ward. Carter ranked fourth nationally in three-point field goals per game in 2009-10 and seventh in three-point field goal percentage, and she holds the Bearcats’ single-game, single-season, and career three-point field goal records. Ward developed into a starting contributor in both her junior and senior seasons while herself moving onto a career in coaching.

Coach Naumovski is one of only four female basketball coaches to receive the designation of Chartered Professional Coach (ChPC), a designation that can only be earned through elite education and coaching experience. She holds a Level 4 coaching certification through Canada Basketball, an Advanced Coaching Certificate from York University, and a certification as a course conductor working with Basketball Ontario to evaluate, teach, mentor, and certify grassroots coaches.

An Academic All-Canadian honoree on the basketball court, she received a master’s degree in Kinesiology in Coaching from York University and the Coaching Institute of Canada.
Anthony C. Clarke enters his third season on the Queens College women’s basketball coaching staff in 2015-16 as assistant coach. He helped Coach Naumovski continue to establish the Knights as serious contenders, with the team collecting back-to-back 20-win seasons and an ECC Championship last season. Clarke also serves as the Tennis Center Coordinator on campus.

Clarke started his coaching career while attending Broward Community College, where he played two seasons of basketball. As the starting point guard and captain from 2005 to 2007, Clarke led the state of Florida in steals as a freshman, at three per game; which placed him 14th nationally. During his first season, he was part of a team that only had an eight-player roster, but managed to win the conference championship.

Following his second season, Clarke continued with Broward as an assistant coach for the 2007-2008 season. In his role with the Seahawks, Clarke assisted in player development, practice organization, and statistics and acted as a liaison with players while making contributions on the defensive end.

After one year of coaching NJCAA Division 1 basketball, Clarke went on to the New York Institute of Technology on an athletic scholarship for basketball. In his senior year, he was named the Bears’ captain while leading the team in steals and ranking second on the team in scoring.

The Queens native earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Interdisciplinary Studies with a focus in Marketing from New York Institute of Technology in 2010, and a Master’s Degree in Communication Arts, also from NYIT, in 2013.

Devin Hill enters his first season as an assistant coach for the Queens College women’s basketball team in 2015 after completing his master’s degree in Coaching and Athletic Administration from Concordia University–Irvine.

Hill’s primary responsibilities as a member of head coach Elizabeth Naumovski’s staff will be assisting with the development of the team’s frontcourt and recruiting, two areas he is extremely adept at. Hill was a prized recruit heading into college, ranked as the No. 67 power forward in the 2008 national class by ESPN and named Honorable Mention All-American by Sporting News. Hill went on to play three years of Division I basketball in the Big East for the DePaul Blue Demons, where he averaged 4.1 points, 3.0 rebounds, and 1.0 block in 67 career games.

Outside of his playing career, Hill honed his coaching acumen by returning to the same New York Gauchos AAU program where he won back-to-back national championships as a junior to be an assistant coach for the Girls U17 team for two seasons. Most recently, he spent last year coaching at Cactus Shadows High School in Phoenix, AZ, as a varsity assistant and the head coach of the boys’ JV team. In these roles, Hill was responsible for preparing game plans, structuring practices, and scouting.

Hill earned his bachelor’s degree in Sociology from Arizona State University in 2014 before completing his master’s degree at Concordia. In addition to his role in player development at Queens, Hill will also coordinate the Queens College Skills Camp for girls.

Originally from Stamford, CT, Hill enjoys spending time with family and friends in his free time.
Ty CONYERS  Assistant Coach – First Season

Tyrone Conyers begins his first year as an assistant coach for the Queens College women's basketball team in 2015.

Conyers joins head coach Elizabeth Naumovski's staff following a four-year stint as the head student manager for the University at Albany's men's basketball team. With the Great Danes, he produced scouting reports and game film, compiled video and statistical analysis on prospective recruits, monitored the progression of individual players, and provided managerial support for players during road trips.

Aside from his role as an assistant coach for the women's basketball team, Conyers is also a Social Media Coordinator/Communications Intern for the CUNY Athletic Conference. In this capacity, Conyers manages the CUNY Athletics website and social media presence, while also writing feature stories and press releases about the teams and student-athletes competing for CUNY institutions.

While at Albany, Conyers earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in Communications. Originally from Elmont, NY, he enjoys fashion, listening to music and watching all sports in his spare time.

Carmine COULOUTE  Student Manager – Second Season

Carmine Couloute joined Coach Naumovski's staff as a student-manager in August of 2014. Couloute is pursuing a degree in Political Science.

She came to Queens College from nearby John Bowne High School, where she also served as the basketball manager for two years. At Bowne, the Elmont, NY native won academic awards in English, History, and Physical Education. She also was a member of the weightlifting team.

Couloute lived in Haiti and Turks & Caicos growing up.

The 1972-73 National Championship Game

Left and above: Program and Roster from the National Championship Game between Queens College & Immaculata College. QC finished second in the country that season.

Right: A Letter from President Richard Nixon welcomes the teams to Queens College.

Women have written many proud chapters in the history of modern sports. Fans from every nation have applauded the grace of Peggy Fleming, the daring of Olga Korbut and the endurance of Shane Gould, and in America, the popularity of women's competitive sports increases every year.

I am, of course, delighted to extend my warm greetings to the contestants and guests of the 1973 national basketball championships of the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women. I know this tournament will have its full share of excitement for both spectators and players alike.
